LET WATER WORKS SUPPORT ITSELF

SENATOR FAIRCHILD INTRODUCES MEASURE TO TURN OVER HONOLULU WATER RECEIPTS TO SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC WORKS FOR MAINTENANCE AND EXTENSION OF SYSTEM—ARE CHICKENS AND SPARROWS BENEFICIAL BIRDS.

The most interesting matter to come up in the Senate this morning was the introduction of a bill by Senator Fairchild which provides the Honolulu Water Works a chance to prove that they are self supporting. It is understood that the measure is an administration one. It provides for the placing of all realizations from the Honolulu Water Works in a separate fund which shall be used for both the maintenance and improvement of the system, as well as for the payment of interest on the bonds which have already been issued for this purpose. The bill is doubtful of passage, on account of the fact that it will place so large an amount of money in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Works for expenditure without giving the Legislature a chance to dictate how it shall be used.

The only other matter which worried the members was the bill providing for protection for beneficial birds. It was held by Senator Smith that the term "beneficial" was too strong, as every bird was beneficial to a greater or less degree. On Makekau's motion action was deferred till changes in the bill had been made in committee.

The Senate did not adjourn till 12:30 on account of the fact that an attempt was made, sitting as the Committee of the Whole, to get through with the General Election bill. This afternoon a visit will be made to Kaimuki reservoir and in the evening at 10 o'clock the Legislative party leaves for Molokai.

THE SENATE.
THIRTY-NINTH DAY.
Senator Fairchild introduced a bill providing that all revenues from the Honolulu Water Works should be placed in a separate fund by the Treasurer to be used only for the maintenance, extension, improvement and payment of the cost of the system. The disposition of the funds is left wholly in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Works and is to take effect from July 1, 1909.

The appropriation bill was received from the House and passed first reading. The veto by Governor Frear of House bill 20, relating to the payment of counsel fees to attorneys appointed by the court in criminal cases, was sustained. Makekau's bill changing the terms of the Circuit Court for the third and fourth circuits was tabled at the request of its introducer.

Baker's bill providing for a license fee and regulation of dealers in second hand articles passed third reading after being amended to provide for an itemized list of all articles bought being submitted to the police each month. Makekau moved to amend so that the license should be paid to the County treasurers but then withdrew his suggestion.

House bill 3 raising the income tax exemption from $1000 to $1500 passed third reading without opposition.

Chairman Fairchild of the Ways and Means Committee asked that House bill 38, the mercantile license bill, be returned to his committee for changes on account of information received yesterday afternoon. The request was granted.

Senate bill 50, providing for the disposition of funds from realizations of the industrial schools, passed third reading. The same action was taken with House bill 54, providing for in-

TO PROTECT DEER IN SPITE OF OUTLANDERS

SILLY OPPOSITION OF HUNGRY FAWN HUNTERS IN THE HOUSE PROVES VAIN—APPROPRIATION BILL UP TO SENATE—COUNTY POLICE AND SANITATION BILLS DEFERRED TILL MONDAY—DIVISION OF TERRITORY INTO DISTRICTS PASSES.

Without opposition the biennial expense appropriation bill, reduced over half a million dollars by the plan to transfer certain responsibilities to the counties, passed third reading in the Senate this morning and went to the Senate.

Waiwai's bill to divide the Territory into taxation, judicial and election districts, also passed final reading in the House, the only amendment to the original bill being that Kauai gets five instead of six supervisors.

Coney's measure relating to the powers and duties of the Board of Supervisors, covering all local police matters and all matters of sanitation, buildings, sewers, etc., passed third reading and was later reconsidered and deferred till Monday as was also deferred Coney's bill covering the same matters in the City and County of Honolulu.

Senator Quinn's bill protecting deer, making a short open season and a long closed season, was the measure that created the most excitement in the House, arousing opposition that had as little sense in argument as it had in the time it unnecessarily consumed.

It passed in spite of the fight put up by Kaniho, Nakaleka and others, Representative Cohen, incidentally, making a clever defense inasmuch as he ridiculed the silly opposition.

Senator Fairchild's conservation of natural resources amendment bill passed final reading and is up to the Governor. It provides that there shall be no conservation tax on money or property acquired by inheritance.

THIRTY-NINTH DAY.
Morning Session.
SENATE IS ROASTED.

Shingle—The President of the Senate says the bills vetoed by the Governor are faultily drawn House bills, and he's glad that Senate bills have not suffered this fault.

Rice—House bills which have been vetoed generally failed to meet the Governor's approval because of faulty Senate amendments.

Sheldon—And the Senate amendments which killed the bills were generally the ideas of the Honorable gentleman himself (W. O. Smith.)

SILLY OPPOSITION.

On consideration of the "deer bill" Kalelopu resented the assertion of a gentleman from Molokai that the deer was a bad animal. They had been imported when Kamehameha Fifth was king; now how much forest had they eaten since their arrival. The Molokai Representative had to admit that very little damage had been done. Kalelopu did not believe deer would

CAMPBELL MAY WIN

FIGHT AGAINST TERRITORIAL TREASURER HAS LOST MUCH GROUND IN PAST TWO WEEKS.

A matter which is creating a good deal of interest in business and political circles is the confirmation of Treasurer A. J. Campbell by the Senate. A strenuous fight has been made against Campbell which seems to be fast losing ground and at present it looks much more favorable to him than it did a couple of weeks ago.

That Senator Coelho of Maui will fight against Campbell is sure, the alleged ground being the appointment of Kuneua as tax assessor of Maui in place of the incompetent suggested by the Republican Central committee of Maui. Robinson will probably join Coelho in this fight. Kalama is not expected to be on that side. The Kauai delegation will probably be strong for Campbell. Hawaii will split and Campbell may get two votes from there. The decision will of course, rest with Oahu.

In regard to the local delegation on the fight McCarthy and Moore will be against the Treasurer, Chillingworth and Smith will support him. Harvey is a doubtful quantity and Quinn is in the same category. The fight against Campbell here comes on but one proposition, his service on the Liquor Board. In this capacity the statement has been made many times that he was too radical but the fact that he was practically forced to sit on the Board by the Governor has done much to dispel this opposition. As treasurer it is universally acknowledged that he has given first class service and that his integrity is beyond any question. The confirmation will rest on the votes of Harvey, Quinn and the members from Hawaii. The general prediction now is that the fight against Campbell is likely to be dropped altogether when the votes have been counted by the opposition leader.

In local business circles unanimous support is given Campbell which will help him greatly. The administration is, of course, solidly behind him.

CAPT. BOWERS WORKS UP CASE

PETER NAWAI, USHER IN ART THEATER, PARTIALLY CONFESSES TO ONE OF MOST NOTORIOUS BURGLARIES REPORTED HEREIN LONG TIME—PROPERTY IS BEING RECOVERED THIS NOON.

Chief of Detectives Leal has, it is believed, the man who burglarized the premises of Thomas A. Burningham three or four weeks ago.

The man's name is Peter Nawai, alias Kala, part Hawaiian, scarcely more than a boy, an usher at the Art theater in Hotel street.

Nawai has partially confessed and this afternoon has gone out in an automobile with Detective Leal, Manager Lawson, of the Art theater, and Captain W. L. Bowers, of the Merchants' Patrol, to get and surrender the articles taken from the Burningham residence.

To Captain Bowers is due the credit for tracking and landing the burglar. The Merchants' patrolman guards the Art theater. Shortly after the Burningham burglary his attention was attracted to Nawai in connection with certain jewelry. Without saying a word to anybody he worked on this clue.

On the 27th of last month he had succeeded in working up evidence almost sufficient to justify arrest, but he wanted to be absolutely positive of his case. The boy worked in the theater under his eye, and had no chance of getting away.

This morning Bowers produced not only the evidence but a watch which had been stolen from the Burningham house and was found in possession of the young man.

Nawai was taken into custody. Leal was out on the case this afternoon and could not be reached, but it is understood that Nawai has made almost a complete confession and has volunteered to surrender a part, at least, of the stolen property. When Mr. Lawson found that one of his ushers was a thief he promptly offered his personal services and the use of his automobile to the detectives for use in ferreting out the remaining particulars of the crime.

PROHIBITIONISTS DID GAIN ONE MATERIAL POINT

(Special Correspondence of The Star.)
WASHINGTON, March 23.—The prohibitionists did not get everything in the way of legislation that they were asking of Congress at the recent session, but they did gain one material point; they succeeded in putting express agents and other employees of common carriers out of the liquor business in "dry" states. For this much they are duly grateful, but nevertheless, at the next regular session, they will ask for additional legislation restricting the shipments of liquor into prohibition states.

The liquor provisions of the penal code bill, enacted in the closing days of the late session, were aimed at the practice common in all "dry" states of shipping liquor promiscuously into those states, in charge of express agents, or like employees, to be sold by these agents either upon demand, or according to some prearranged plan. It is believed that the new legislation will effectively stop this practice.

In the first place, the new law requires that all packages containing liquor, when shipped from one state to another, shall be plainly marked on the cover, both as to the amount and nature of the contents. Any person who ships liquor from one state to another, without so marking it, will be subject to a fine of not more than $5,000 for each and every offense. This penalty will, it is believed, have a deterrent effect upon manufacturers and dealers who have heretofore made sales in prohibition states.

The law, however, does not stop with the marking of packages. It specifically provides that officers or employees of railroads, express companies and other common carriers shall not deliver to any person, other than the consignee, any packages containing liquor, nor shall such packages be delivered to any fictitious person. This will also put a stop to the practice of shipping liquor into "dry" states in blank packages, addressed to no one. A penalty of five thousand dollars is
